

LARGEST OF SEASON.

Was the Mackerel Fare of
Sch. Edna Wallace Hopper.

OTHER VESSELS GOT FISH.

Windy Weather Greatly Interfering with Mackereling.

One of the largest mackerel fares for many years was that which sch. Edna Wallace Hopper had at Boston yesterday. As previously reported in the TIMES, Capt. Malloch hailed his fare for 200 barrels of salt mackerel and 25,000 fresh mackerel. Instead of this he had, beside the salt fish, nearly 50,000 fresh mackerel by actual count.

On these latter a stock of $4300 was made. As soon as they were out, the Hopper hustled down here arriving in the evening, sold her fish to John Pew & Son at the market price, took in ice and stores, and filled salt, and this morning was all ready to sail again.

Her gross stock on the fare will be over $6000, making one of the biggest mackerel trip stocks for several seasons.

Many stories are afloat as to where Capt. Malloch got his fish, but the one most generally accepted is 148 miles southeast half south from Highland Light in 47 fathoms of water, on the southern part of Georges. The fish were all taken Monday and Tuesday in three schools of about 250 barrels each.

Sch. Kentucky was in company with the Hopper and did well. On Tuesday schs. John S. Presson and George F. Edmunds got there and both made good hauls. These were the only vessels there, but on Wednesday morning, when the Hopper kept off for market, eight or ten more vessels had reached there.

Capt. Solomon Jacobs of steamer Alice M. Jacobs, which craft is at Boston for painting, etc., reports cruising from Portsmouth to Block Island and over Georges for the past 10 days and saw no fish.

The captains of the seiners in today report blowing weather since Tuesday and no chance to look for fish.

All seem to think that there would be some fish caught anywhere from Block Island to Georges if they should have a spell of good weather.

Sch. Hiram Lowell is in port from seining to repair her mainsail.

Sch. Richard Lester is down from Boston with 115 barrels salt mackerel.

Capt. William J. Corkum of sch. Priscilla Smith reports coming over the Cultivator yesterday but saw no mackerel. Capt. Corkum also reports no fish showing at the South Shoal lightship, Wednesday.

The fare of sch. Priscilla Smith sold to Fred. Bradley at $11 per barrel.

Portland fish dealers are very much interested in the mackerel fisheries just now. Quite a large amount of "tinker" mackerel have been taken off Old Orchard and at the J. W. Trefethen office it was said yesterday that at least 2000 pounds came in Wednesday morning from the pounds and from fishermen. The mackerel taken from the pounds averaged large.

Mackerel Notes.

Sch. Kentucky, Capt. Elroy Prior, arrived from the southeast part of Georges this morning with 320 barrels salt mackerel, taken Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On the two former days the Kentucky and Edna Wallace Hopper were alone on the fish. On Wednesday about ten sail were there and about all took some fish. Since then no fish have been caught on account of blowy weather, the vessels laying under reefed foresail Thursday. On Friday the Kentucky passed 40 sail of the fleet all headed for the spot where she got her fare, 45 miles south southeast of the Cultivator.

The fare of sch. Harry G. French sold to Stanwood & Co at $10 62 1-2 per bbl.

Sch. Emma W. Brown will be commanded by Capt. William Harris in the mackerel fishery.

Mackerel Notes.

Capt. Nathaniel Greenleaf of sch. Harvard, which arrived last night, reports that on Saturday evening, 50 miles south southeast of Monhegan, for about two hours passed through quite a number of schools of mackerel. The water fired well and Capt. Greenleaf went on the mast-head and was sure they were mackerel.

Sch. D. A. Wilson of Beverly arrived from seining Saturday night leaking slightly.

A Big Turtle.

Sch. Gracie of this port landed a turtle at Newport last Monday, which weighed 612 pounds. The big fellow was caught in a mackerel net.

Large Cargo of Hake.
